The on-ground work (to form and finish the concrete) was supervised by Rotarian Bob Bauer, with the help of four other Rotarians and four local volunteers (a total of 16.5 hours for the Rotarians and 16.5 hours for the volunteers). The volunteers included a local concrete contractor who donated his time to make sure the concrete was formed and poured correctly.

The City of St. Anthony is a cooperating organization. They provided people from the parks department to assure the project was constructed to city standards and the City will maintain the park in the future.
