Our "Care and comfort packages" to those who are deployed to the Middle East. Interactor kids and students from "Friends of the Fighting Fifth" from Dana Hills High School and also Don Juan Avila Elementary school stand outside of Walmart to collect goodies from home for the boxes sent around the globe. Toiletries, socks, candy, other necessities and morale-building items are shopped for by patrons of Walmart and then donated and sent to the Middle East.

9. Who are the Beneficiaries:

(Who are you serving and how?)

Packing parties" are a great time to work shoulder to shoulder together; Rotarians and Youth, to pack the goodies, fill out customs forms and send the packages in country to our troops. "Hand- made cards" and letters to our Troops are enclosed in the goodies boxes overseas. Precious sentiments and drawings from the students are sent to our service members. Supplies for these cards is needed each year. Students then deliver the cards to the Rotary meeting to be packed in the care packages.
