Reveille Rotary honored for work with aging

The Wyoming Advisory Council on Aging honored Casper's Reveille Rotary for its exemplary work with older adults and individuals with disabilities.

The Reveille Rotary group is dedicated to enriching the lives of seniors and helping them retain their independence and remain in their homes. The 38-member organization provides drivers for Meals on Wheels and rides to the Wyoming Symphony. The group bought and installed benches in parks and walkways frequented by seniors and has an ongoing program to provide and install smoke and carbon dioxide detectors in the homes of seniors.

The group contributes to the Natrona County Public Library Books by Mail program, provides a weekly meal at Central Wyoming Hospice, and a Christmas lunch at the Casper Senior Center.

The Wyoming Advisory Council on Aging Advisory is a 12-member volunteer group to the Wyoming Department of Health Division of Aging that supports the goals and plans for older adults in the Aging State Plan. According to Aging Council Division VII member Carol Crump, Reveille Rotary's focus on Casper's aging population is the kind of effort that positively impacts Wyoming's aging population. "Reveille Rotary's activities are helping seniors maintain their quality of life and stay safe."

Mount Hope

hosts open house

Mount Hope Lutheran School, 2300 Hickory St., invites the community to an open house from 4 to 6:30 p.m. on Tuesday, Nov. 14. Mount Hope staff would love to show classrooms and visit about classical education. Those interested in touring who are unable to attend on Nov. 14 may call 234-6865 to arrange another time. The school is located behind Smith's and Johnny Appleseed, off CY Avenue on Casper's west side.

NC presents prelude to Peter Pan

Who was Peter Pan before he became the boy who never grew up? What is that strange dust that allows him to make children fly? How did Captain Hook lose his hand and why is that crocodile chasing him? Natrona County High School will answer those questions in the hilarious new play, "Peter and the Starcatcher," by Rick Elice based on the novel by Dave Barry and Ridley Pearson with music by Wayne Barker.

This entertaining story brings all of the elements from the original Peter Pan you know but with a darker twist. The story is perfect for kids, yet has a great deal of humor for adults. The show runs Nov. 16 and 17 at 7 p.m. and Nov. 18 at 2 p.m. Tickets are $5 for students and senior citizens and $10 for adults and can be purchased at the NCHS Main Office or at the door.

CC launches new arts website

Casper College recently released a new website specifically for arts and humanities events.

The new site, located at www.caspercollegearts.cc, hosts event information for the five departments that are part of the school of fine arts and humanities: English, music, theatre and dance, visual arts, and world languages.

The launch of the new website makes it one-stop center to find out about upcoming art shows, exhibits, plays, dance concerts, music events, and more that are offered each semester by the school of fine arts and humanities.

Cole jazz night features Duke Ellington

The Casper College Jazz Ensemble and the Casper College Contemporary Singers will present "Jazz Night" at 7 p.m. on Wednesday, Nov. 15, in the Wheeler Concert Hall.

Under the direction of Dr. Joshua R. Mietz and Dr. Zach Vreeman, the concert will feature, in addition to Duke Ellington tunes, selections from Todd Dameron, Stephen Sondheim and Jule Styne, and others.

"Jazz Night" is free and open to the public. The Wheeler Concert Hall is located in the Music Building on the Casper College campus. For more information, contact the music office at 268-2606.

"Identity and Gender Roles: The North American Indian Photographs of Edward S. Curtis" is now on display in the Goodstein Art Gallery through Thursday, Dec. 7.

Selected from the University of Wyoming Art Museum's collection, the exhibit examines how identity and gender roles are illustrated through his depictions of daily life.

Although forgotten for many years, today, Edward S. Curtis, 1869-1952, is one of the most recognized and celebrated photographers of Native North American Tribes. In the early 20th century, Curtis launched "The North American Indian" project, a 30-year mission which he described as an effort "to form a comprehensive and permanent record of all the important tribes of the United States and Alaska that still retain to a considerable degree their... customs and traditions."

The show, which is courtesy of the UW Art Museum's Regional Touring Exhibition Service, is free and open to the public. The Goodstein Art Gallery is located in the Goodstein Visual Arts Center on the Casper College campus. The gallery is open from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Thursday. For more information, call 268-2060.

Holiday open house at ALC

Casper College Adult Learning Center hosts its annual holiday open house from 11 a.m. to 6:30 p.m., Dec. 7, in the Werner Technical Center. Enjoy holiday shopping, basket bidding, door prizes, a 50/50 raffle and much more. Lunch will be served from noon until it's gone. Proceeds benefit the volunteers and students of the Adult Learning Center.

School offering private tours

St. Anthony Tri-Parish Catholic School is now hosting private tours for prospective families. Rather than attending a generalized open house, come take a private tour and discover the possibilities at SAS. Take a tour during school hours and witness students and staff at work. Gain an understanding of how the preschool through eighth grade programs operate and function by watching them first hand. To schedule a tour, please call the office anytime, Monday through Friday, 8 a.m. to 4 p.m., at 234-2873. Take a virtual tour at www.sasacasper.com/virtualtour.

Requirements for consideration include a minimum 3.5 GPA, minimum 24 ACT and minimum 1700 SAT. The application process includes a copy of high school transcript, list of AP classes completed, IB and BOCES if applicable, a minimum 500-word essay explaining education goals, two letters of recommendation, family financial information and a letter of acceptance from a university or college.

Preschool, kindergarten spots available

Mount Hope Lutheran School has room for a few more preschool and kindergarten students. Kindergartners at MHLs learn Spalding phonograms, Saxon math, poetry, Bible passages, introductory Latin, experiential science and more. Mount Hope's preschool curriculum includes learning the alphabet and Spalding phonograms, learning about numbers with Saxon math, listening to Aesop fables, nursery rhymes, fairy tales, and singing hymns. For more information, please call 234-6865 or visit the school at 2300 Hickory St.

Mount Hope Lutheran School admits students of any race, color, national or ethnic origin at the right in all its programs, and activities offered. It does not discriminate on the basis of race, color, national or ethnic origin in administration of its educational policies, admissions policies, scholarship or loan programs, athletic or other school-administered programs.

Head Start, Early Head Start in food program

Wyoming Child and Family Development, Inc., announces its participation in the Child Care Food Program, offered by the U.S. Department of Agriculture. Meals will be provided at Head Start, 301 West B Street, and Early Head Start, 160 N. Washington, in Casper.

The same meals will be made available to all enrolled children at no separate charge regardless of race, color, national origin, age, sex, or handicap, and there is no discrimination in the course of the meal service.
