Product Description —

The Raindrop Imagination Station is a smaller version of the Moonlight Imagination Station. It works for a close-knit group of young friends. The adventure begins as kids access the top deck via the Fish Stairs. They have battles of wits with their peers via the Tic-Tac-Toe Panel. After engaging in interactive games, they can peek through the Window Panel and the See Through Panel. They can imagine themselves to be lookout scouts or explorers surveying their playground kingdom. The Chimney Roof can lead them to imagine they are little goblins infiltrating a giant human's abode. The Clock Panel will help them embark on time-sensitive adventures where they must accomplish a mission without an hour. Their adventures come to a satisfactory end when they slide down the Hard Hat Straight Slide. With the Raindrop Imagination Station, kids can restore faith in their climbing abilities. It's the perfect play area for young adventure lovers to be physically & cognitively active.
